

WEATHER INDICATIONS: RAIN OR SNOW.

REAL ESTATE
People Read THE WORLD Daily.

25 GTS.
per advt.
line.

LAND BUYERS
TRY AN ADVT. RESULTS SURE.

UPTOWN OFFICE
320 ST. 3RD AVE.
B'WAY AND 32D ST.

The Evening World
"Circulation Books Open to All."

THE EVENING EDITION
NEW YORK, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1901.

The World
"Circulation Books Open to All."

WEATHER INDICATIONS: RAIN OR SNOW.

A SITUATION
IN THE WORLD will cost only
10 GTS.
It will secure
EMPLOYMENT
IF YOU SEEK WORK. TRY IT.

BROOKLYN OFFICE
TOM ST.

PRICE ONE CENT

6 O'CLOCK EXTRA.

POWER FOR STRONG.

Morton and Platt to Confer with Him on a Removal Bill.

Immense Patronage Which Would Be Placed in His Hands.

The Governor-Elect Arrives at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Gov.-elect Morton arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

To an "Evening World" reporter he said:

"I cannot give you an interview now. When asked if he had received a letter from ex-President Harrison, he said:

"I have received a letter from ex-President Harrison. It is a letter of which I feel proud, but the contents of which I do not feel at liberty to make known until I have Gen. Harrison's permission to make it public."

"Did I expect such a landlady? Well, hardly. I did not at any time believe the result in the State was in doubt, but did not look for such a tremendous upheaval."

Mr. Morton said he could not say how long he would stay in town, but it is believed he will remain for the balance of the week.

His visit is fraught with significance, and it is said that before he again leaves New York a most important conference will be held between ex-Senator Platt, Mayor-elect W. L. Strong and himself.

The object of this conference will be to arrive at an understanding concerning Mayor Strong's probable action following the passage of a bill giving the Mayor of New York the power to remove all heads of departments whom he may consider not in sympathy with his administration.

That such a bill is contemplated was today openly admitted by the leaders of the party. Speaking on that subject Chairman Hackett, of the Republican State Committee, said:

"A Power of Removal bill will, I think, be one of the first acts of the Legislature of 1902. It is a bill which I do not believe in removal without cause, nor do I know whether absolute power in the matter will be vested in the Mayor. The details will be attended to later, but I think the Power of Removal bill is sure to come."

Gen. Samuel Thomas, formerly treasurer of the Republican National Committee, said: "Of course a power of removal bill will be introduced. It will come another political landslide which will make Republicans wonder where they are at."

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt said: "From conversations I have had with Messrs. and Messrs. Platt, I feel convinced that after January next the people will see a big reduction in the cost of running the State and city departments. While I cannot speak for Mr. Morton, I think you will find that all the deadwood in the Insurance, Banking, Railway departments, as well as in State bureaus and commissions, will be chopped off, and that the expenses for conducting them will be reduced."

The fact, however, that the Committee of Seventy and other independent organizations fought so strenuously for Col. St. John's election, makes Republicanism a matter of the manner in which it is contemplated to place at his disposal the power of removal. It is to be said that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

HILL HANGED IN EFFIGY.

Report that He Was Publicly Insulted at Purdy's Station.

A telegram from Purdy's station, in Westchester County, states that Senator Hill has been hanged in effigy from a telegraph pole.

A COFFIN FOR MR. HILL.

It Came from the South Addressed to Tammany Hall.

A coffin, addressed to Senator David B. Hill, care of Tammany Hall, came in this morning by Adams Express from Columbia, Ga.

The scene was a dramatic one when Feigenbaum, his face almost green in his deadly pallor, his eyes red with much weeping, his hands and lips trembling, was led to the bar by two stairway court officers. Lawyer Lawton, who made a hard fight for Feigenbaum's life at the trial, stood on one side of him and the court interpreter was on the other. The clerk of the court looked at Feigenbaum and asked:

"Have you anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed upon you?"

"As sure as there is a God in heaven," cried Feigenbaum, "I am innocent! I am innocent! I did not do it!"

As he uttered these words he lifted his hands high above his head, beat his breast, shook his head and a look of abject terror came over his face.

"Tell him," said the Recorder to the interpreter, "that on the first day of September last at 54 East Sixth street the evidence taken upon his trial disclosed the fact that he committed the crime of homicide, taking the life of Juliana Hoffman."

"They testified falsely," cried Feigenbaum with a sob.

"Tell him," continued the Recorder in cold, measured tones which showed no emotion, "that the murder committed by him was one of the most atrocious that has ever come to my attention."

Feigenbaum mopped his face with a faded handkerchief and walked out the door.

"I always tried to make an honest living. I would be ashamed to kill a poor old woman."

"The Recorder went on to say that the evidence also established the fact that the killing of this woman was preceded by deliberation and premeditation on his part, and was evidently for the purpose of robbing her of the few dollars which she possessed."

"I didn't know that she had money," broke in Feigenbaum, "and he dropped dead."

"The man who was with me was a second."

"Tell him," came the cold tones once more, "that there is only one punishment that for a crime such as his has committed, and that is the punishment of death."

With tears streaming down his face and his whole frame shaking with emotion, Feigenbaum almost screamed the words: "I am innocent! I am innocent! I am innocent!"

"Tell him," went on the Recorder in the same measured tones, "that the judgment of the Court is that he suffer death during the week beginning Dec. 17 next."

Feigenbaum was led, screaming and weeping, from the room where the judge of Sable sat to a cell in the Tombs.

EVERYBODY SAW THE JOKE BUT THE POLICE.

Mattie Hoey, and he went with it at once to Tammany Hall. He set the coffin down on the stairs and a great deal of attention in Jersey City this morning. It fell to the charge of driver

Gen. Samuel Thomas, formerly treasurer of the Republican National Committee, said: "Of course a power of removal bill will be introduced. It will come another political landslide which will make Republicans wonder where they are at."

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt said: "From conversations I have had with Messrs. and Messrs. Platt, I feel convinced that after January next the people will see a big reduction in the cost of running the State and city departments. While I cannot speak for Mr. Morton, I think you will find that all the deadwood in the Insurance, Banking, Railway departments, as well as in State bureaus and commissions, will be chopped off, and that the expenses for conducting them will be reduced."

The fact, however, that the Committee of Seventy and other independent organizations fought so strenuously for Col. St. John's election, makes Republicanism a matter of the manner in which it is contemplated to place at his disposal the power of removal. It is to be said that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

TO DIE DE 17, NEXT.

Feigenbaum to Be Executed Then for Mrs. Hoffman's Murder.

"Like Jesus Christ Was Crucified So I Will Be!" He Shrieked.

Dramatic Scene in Recorder Smyth's Court This Afternoon.

Carl Feigenbaum was today sentenced to die during the week beginning Dec. 17 next by Recorder Smyth, for the murder of Mrs. Juliana Hoffman, at 54 East Sixth street, the night of Sept. 1 last.

The scene was a dramatic one when Feigenbaum, his face almost green in his deadly pallor, his eyes red with much weeping, his hands and lips trembling, was led to the bar by two stairway court officers. Lawyer Lawton, who made a hard fight for Feigenbaum's life at the trial, stood on one side of him and the court interpreter was on the other. The clerk of the court looked at Feigenbaum and asked:

"Have you anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed upon you?"

"As sure as there is a God in heaven," cried Feigenbaum, "I am innocent! I am innocent! I did not do it!"

As he uttered these words he lifted his hands high above his head, beat his breast, shook his head and a look of abject terror came over his face.

"Tell him," said the Recorder to the interpreter, "that on the first day of September last at 54 East Sixth street the evidence taken upon his trial disclosed the fact that he committed the crime of homicide, taking the life of Juliana Hoffman."

"They testified falsely," cried Feigenbaum with a sob.

"Tell him," continued the Recorder in cold, measured tones which showed no emotion, "that the murder committed by him was one of the most atrocious that has ever come to my attention."

Feigenbaum mopped his face with a faded handkerchief and walked out the door.

"I always tried to make an honest living. I would be ashamed to kill a poor old woman."

"The Recorder went on to say that the evidence also established the fact that the killing of this woman was preceded by deliberation and premeditation on his part, and was evidently for the purpose of robbing her of the few dollars which she possessed."

"I didn't know that she had money," broke in Feigenbaum, "and he dropped dead."

"The man who was with me was a second."

"Tell him," came the cold tones once more, "that there is only one punishment that for a crime such as his has committed, and that is the punishment of death."

With tears streaming down his face and his whole frame shaking with emotion, Feigenbaum almost screamed the words: "I am innocent! I am innocent! I am innocent!"

"Tell him," went on the Recorder in the same measured tones, "that the judgment of the Court is that he suffer death during the week beginning Dec. 17 next."

Feigenbaum was led, screaming and weeping, from the room where the judge of Sable sat to a cell in the Tombs.

EVERYBODY SAW THE JOKE BUT THE POLICE.

Mattie Hoey, and he went with it at once to Tammany Hall. He set the coffin down on the stairs and a great deal of attention in Jersey City this morning. It fell to the charge of driver

Gen. Samuel Thomas, formerly treasurer of the Republican National Committee, said: "Of course a power of removal bill will be introduced. It will come another political landslide which will make Republicans wonder where they are at."

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt said: "From conversations I have had with Messrs. and Messrs. Platt, I feel convinced that after January next the people will see a big reduction in the cost of running the State and city departments. While I cannot speak for Mr. Morton, I think you will find that all the deadwood in the Insurance, Banking, Railway departments, as well as in State bureaus and commissions, will be chopped off, and that the expenses for conducting them will be reduced."

The fact, however, that the Committee of Seventy and other independent organizations fought so strenuously for Col. St. John's election, makes Republicanism a matter of the manner in which it is contemplated to place at his disposal the power of removal. It is to be said that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

Col. Strong has been so outspoken during the canvass and has reiterated the statement that he would not be the Mayor of any party, that the whole people, so often that the Republican machine men (thinks that the Mayor of men who were not identified with the Republican organization, and who were not identified with the party, which would eventually cause its ruin.

TUSCAN, IN A DRIVE.

Comes With a Rush and Wins the First Race on the Post.

Wernberg Easily Beats the Longbrook and Melody in the Second.

The Third Event Goes to Gramplan at St. Asaph Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

RACE TRACK, ST. ASAPH, Nov. 9.—After a heavy rain early this morning the sun came out strong and made the weather clear and pleasant for the visitors to St. Asaph this afternoon. Owing to the heavy track, scratches were again numerous and the fields in several of the races were cut to shreds. Fourteen horses did business, and they all had plenty of work, the crowd being quite large.

A bad lot of madden two-year-olds ran in the opening race. Festival was asked to give away a lot of weight to all her field, but despite this she was made a strong favorite.

Festival stopped after running a quarter of a mile and finished third to Tuscan and Parthenia. This latter is an open, some of the talent thought, and the betting was lively at first. At the close, however, Wernberg received the heaviest backing, and he went to the post at odds on.

The favorite had to extend himself in the first part of the race, but at the end things all his own way, winning in hand.

FIRST RACE.

Maiden; selling; four and a half furlongs. Times: 1:10, 1:11, 1:12, 1:13, 1:14, 1:15, 1:16, 1:17, 1:18, 1:19, 1:20, 1:21, 1:22, 1:23, 1:24, 1:25, 1:26, 1:27, 1:28, 1:29, 1:30, 1:31, 1:32, 1:33, 1:34, 1:35, 1:36, 1:37, 1:38, 1:39, 1:40, 1:41, 1:42, 1:43, 1:44, 1:45, 1:46, 1:47, 1:48, 1:49, 1:50, 1:51, 1:52, 1:53, 1:54, 1:55, 1:56, 1:57, 1:58, 1:59, 2:00, 2:01, 2:02, 2:03, 2:04, 2:05, 2:06, 2:07, 2:08, 2:09, 2:10, 2:11, 2:12, 2:13, 2:14, 2:15, 2:16, 2:17, 2:18, 2:19, 2:20, 2:21, 2:22, 2:23, 2:24, 2:25, 2:26, 2:27, 2:28, 2:29, 2:30, 2:31, 2:32, 2:33, 2:34, 2:35, 2:36, 2:37, 2:38, 2:39, 2:40, 2:41, 2:42, 2:43, 2:44, 2:45, 2:46, 2:47, 2:48, 2:49, 2:50, 2:51, 2:52, 2:53, 2:54, 2:55, 2:56, 2:57, 2:58, 2:59, 3:00, 3:01, 3:02, 3:03, 3:04, 3:05, 3:06, 3:07, 3:08, 3:09, 3:10, 3:11, 3:12, 3:13, 3:14, 3:15, 3:16, 3:17, 3:18, 3:19, 3:20, 3:21, 3:22, 3:23, 3:24, 3:25, 3:26, 3:27, 3:28, 3:29, 3:30, 3:31, 3:32, 3:33, 3:34, 3:35, 3:36, 3:37, 3:38, 3:39, 3:40, 3:41, 3:42, 3:43, 3:44, 3:45, 3:46, 3:47, 3:48, 3:49, 3:50, 3:51, 3:52, 3:53, 3:54, 3:55, 3:56, 3:57, 3:58, 3:59, 4:00, 4:01, 4:02, 4:03, 4:04, 4:05, 4:06, 4:07, 4:08, 4:09, 4:10, 4:11, 4:12, 4:13, 4:14, 4:15, 4:16, 4:17, 4:18, 4:19, 4:20, 4:21, 4:22, 4:23, 4:24, 4:25, 4:26, 4:27, 4:28, 4:29, 4:30, 4:31, 4:32, 4:33, 4:34, 4:35, 4:36, 4:37, 4:38, 4:39, 4:40, 4:41, 4:42, 4:43, 4:44, 4:45, 4:46, 4:47, 4:48, 4:49, 4:50, 4:51, 4:52, 4:53, 4:54, 4:55, 4:56, 4:57, 4:58, 4:59, 5:00, 5:01, 5:02, 5:03, 5:04, 5:05, 5:06, 5:07, 5:08, 5:09, 5:10, 5:11, 5:12, 5:13, 5:14, 5:15, 5:16, 5:17, 5:18, 5:19, 5:20, 5:21, 5:22, 5:23, 5:24, 5:25, 5:26, 5:27, 5:28, 5:29, 5:30, 5:31, 5:32, 5:33, 5:34, 5:35, 5:36, 5:37